

Office Chair Gaming Computer Chairs Mesh Back Foam Seat - Black

RRP: $344.95

If your current office chair makes you not want to go to work in the morning, this ergonomically designed mesh foam chair by Randy & Travis Machinery will energise you better than a strong cup of coffee. With super-soft, breathable mesh, you'll stay comfortable and cool, even on the warmest days – with no wire mesh marks from the pressure. Its full-length backrest supports you from head to your lower back with pure comfort. Its lumbar support follows the contours of your back, while its contoured headrest and neck support provide firm support so you can relax and concentrate on the work at hand.

Its adjustable height allows you to customise it for your needs, while a full 360 degrees of swivel allow you to turn to talk to other employees or reach for equipment, paper, or books. Its casters roll quietly, reducing background noise in your office. Its black colour gives it a sleek, streamlined look – and blends into practically any office colour scheme. Once you've tried it at the office, you'll want another for your home office or game room – it's perfect for hours of fun playing video games with the family as well! Get more done in more comfort than ever before. Get yours today!
