

Sandpit Kids Wooden Sand box

Out of Stock: $289.95

If your kids love to play in the sand, but you don't want to have a huge pile of sand in your backyard, this park-like wooden sandbox enclosure is the perfect solution. Flanked by benches, this sandbox keeps your little ones safe inside while you relax and watch them play. Call it a little slice of the beach right in your backyard. Chances are, you'll enjoy it as much as the kids! Just fill it with sand, add a few candles, place some flower pots at the corners, and it will be the perfect spot for meditation, reading, or just pondering life.

Crafted from FSC-certified natural spruce timber, this sandbox-and-bench set will hold up under even the roughest play. A black fleece underneath stops weed growth but allows rainwater to pass through, preventing the sand from clumping. Let your kiddies stretch their imagination and engage their tactile senses as they sift, dig, and set up imaginary cities and rural settings using their toys as props. Then, when they're done playing for the day, enjoy it for yourself as a restful backyard oasis. Unlike most kids' cheap plastic sandboxes, this set's elegant construction turns a play area into a stunning focal point — perfect for entertaining after the kids' day is done.
