RRP: $164.95

If you're looking for the perfect clear plastic tablecloth to keep your table clean and free of stains then this is the solution for you. Made from an easy to clean phthalate-free plastic, the Randy and Travis Machinery Tablecloth Protector is a great solution for those occasions when you want your kitchen table to stay looking immaculate, even if there's the chance that food is going to get everywhere. A fantastic option for events such as children's birthday parties and other special occasions where the table can get a bit messy or covered in food. This clear plastic tablecloth can also be utilised for a number of other surfaces and uses due to its size and ease of use. It's a great option if you need a clear plastic covering for the ground or other work surfaces and with the spare edging, you can cut it down to a specific size or shape.
