Dino-Rider Inflatable Fan-Operated Costume

It's not really a party without a dino-rider. Everybody knows that. Crash the party dinosaur-style with the Dino-Rider Inflatable Fan-Operated Costume. Thankfully, wearing the costume is just the opposite of lugging an actual dinosaur around, thanks to a feather-light material.

This durable, one-size-fits-all costume is constructed with terylene, an extremely lightweight polyester which will keep you cool and allow you to wear the costume while not exerting effort or feeling weighed down or sweaty. An included small fan unit keeps the costume constantly inflated, and the fan's battery pack (4 AA batteries required, not included) simply clips to your pants or belt inside the suit. You can party for several hours on fresh batteries.

Dinosaurs may be extinct, but with the Dino-Rider Inflatable Fan-Operated Costume, you'll be ready to scare up some new adventures. Order today.
