

Weightlifting Belt

RRP: $64.95

Add our new Dipping Belt to your home gym for the best and safest workout possible. Although the belt is a light weight by design, it is built to take the punishment of years of rugged workout routines. This Dipping Belt is constructed of industrial grade material for extra strength and durability. The double stitching around the perimeter of the belt adds to its strength and extends the lifetime of the belt even in the most strenuous of weight training programs.

The one-size-fits all feature of the belt takes out any concern about sizing. The belt is top quality and a standout among similar exercise aids and is designed in the USA.

